GRADUATE SCHOOL

If you have been a high-achieving, conscientious student and are motivated to dedicate yourself to a much higher level of scholarly reading, writing, and research in a specific field, you may be a good candidate for graduate school. You must be able to demonstrate your commitment to academic success by what you have achieved in your undergraduate program. Graduate school is not something you just fall into because you haven’t chosen what to do next with your life or because you are worried about employment opportunities or salary. A graduate degree does not guarantee you a job or a high salary.

Graduate study in psychology consists of advanced training in a specific area. It should be viewed as professional training for a career, not just an extension of undergraduate courses. Consider very carefully why you want to go to graduate school and what your expectations are. You will also need to know which area of psychology you want to pursue.

Competition for admission is intense. Only the most qualified students are admitted. About 40 percent of psychology majors go on to some form of graduate study (MSU Destination Survey 2012) http://careernetwork.msu.edu/_files/PDF/Destination-Survey-Report-Complete-2012.pdf

For a good program, meeting the minimum standards for admission is not usually sufficient; you must do more. For example, the minimum GPA for entering most Ph.D. programs is a 3.2, but students who are actually admitted have a much higher GPA (generally a 3.5 or higher). Some programs place more emphasis on the GPA earned during the junior and senior years. Your undergraduate GPA and coursework, Graduate Record Exam scores http://www.ets.org/gre, letters of reference, research and clinical experiences, and personal statement must show that you will be a successful graduate student.

Due to the breadth and diversity of courses in the psychology degree, students can apply to graduate school within the field of psychology or choose to apply to other related programs. Programs that are very popular that are not within our psychology department are: School Psychology, Social Work, Labor and Industrial Relations-Human Resources, Counseling, Sport Psychology, Student Affairs, and Public Policy. Many Psychology majors also choose to go on to professional programs like law and medical school.

Additional information on many of these graduate programs can be found in the Undergraduate Psychology Advising Center, Room 100 Psychology Building, and on our website. Check out our Career Connection Series to learn more about what is needed for these programs. There are also graduate school books that can be checked out of our lending library.

Meeting with advisors and faculty is imperative for finding out how to apply to graduate school and to decide whether or not it is a good option for your career plans. Understanding how to get there and what it entails takes time and a lot of planning. Don’t wait until it is too late!
Approximately 60 percent of psychology graduates go directly into the workforce with a bachelor’s degree (MSU Destination Survey, 2012: http://careernetwork.msu.edu/files/PDF/Destination-Survey-Report-Complete-2012.pdf). Graduates of our department can compete effectively with other students who have obtained a general/liberal arts education, as well as those who have opted for more specialized curricula. Your performance as a psychology major and your willingness to prepare for a variety of career options will influence your attractiveness to employers and eventual career placement. Preparing for the job market and then building your career takes planning and effort over a long period of time. You should take steps each semester, beginning with your freshman year, toward this end. Strive to incorporate the following into your undergraduate experience from a combination of course selections and other activities: Oral & Written Communication Skills, Teamwork, Critical Thinking, Problem Solving, Leadership, Research Methodology, Computer Literacy, and Work Experience.

FRAMEWORK FOR PSYCHOLOGY DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To ensure that you receive an appropriately broad and well-balanced education at MSU, psychology majors must satisfy the requirements of three separate units that represent three administrative levels: the University, the College of Social Science, and the Department of Psychology. You must meet the graduation requirements of each unit. In addition, you will need to choose elective coursework to achieve the minimum number of 120 credits (123 if you take MTH 1825) for a degree. You must complete 30 credits at the 300 or 400 level. An illustration of the degree framework is shown below.

The following is a brief summary of University requirements; however, the Academic Programs handbook [http://www.reg.msu.edu/AcademicPrograms/] is the official source for University policy.

- Complete a minimum of 120 credits with a 2.0 or better MSU GPA; 123 credits with MTH 1825.
- Achieve a 2.0 or better Psychology cumulative GPA at MSU.
- Complete a minimum of 30 credits at MSU with a minimum of 27 credits on the East Lansing campus after junior status.
- Earn a minimum of 20 credits while in the major.
- Courses used to satisfy specific degree requirements may not be taken CR/NC.
- No more than 10 of a student’s last 30 credits may be transferred from a 4-year accredited college/university. PRIOR APPROVAL IS REQUIRED.
- Credits from a community college will not be accepted once junior status is achieved (56 credits).

Note: Before taking a course at another institution, you should clearly understand the MSU Policy on transferability of courses. For more detailed information, please go to http://www.transfer.msu.edu/ and consult with your academic advisor.

RESEARCH WITH FACULTY

Another opportunity for credit is independent study. Independent studies are important for students planning to apply for graduate school. This experience gives students great opportunities to work with faculty and graduate students in the research environment. Research credit can be earned through PSY 490/491 or it can be done as a volunteer.

PSY 490 Special Problems in Psychology (Fall, Spring, Summer)
- Description: Students work under the direction of a faculty member on an experimental, theoretical, or applied problem. This is a graded course.
- Restrictions: As specified by the faculty member of record. A maximum of 1-8 credits can be taken in a semester with a combined total of 12 credits for the degree. Needs instructor and department approval.

PSY 491 Participation in Psychological Project (Fall, Spring, Summer)
- Description: Students participate in a psychological project under direction of a faculty member. This is a pass/no grade (P/N) course.
- Restrictions: As specified by the faculty member of record. A maximum of 1-8 credits can be taken in a semester with a combined total of 12 credits for the degree. Needs instructor and department approval.

HOW TO LOCATE PSYCHOLOGY RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

There are opportunities in the Department of Psychology for students to get involved in research in a faculty member’s lab, either as a volunteer or for credit (via PSY 490 or PSY 491). There are a number of ways to identify these opportunities.

- View listings on the Psychology website:
  Go to the Psychology website http://www.psychology.msu.edu. Click on the “Undergrads” entry point, then on “Get Involved”. Go to “Independent Studies” for link. Click on an individual study to learn more about it.

- “Independent Studies” notebook of listings in the Advising Library:
  There is a notebook in the Psychology Undergraduate Office that contains listings of independent studies. Many of these listings may also be listed on the Psychology website, but some may be different.

- Contacting faculty to learn of additional independent study opportunities:
  You can identify which faculty members are doing research in an area of interest to you. Go to the Psychology undergraduate website http://www.psychology.msu.edu and click the “Research” button. Select research areas of interest to identify faculty doing research in a given topic area. Click on each one to learn more about their particular research. For each one that provides a “vita” (extensive resume) link, open the link to learn more about that faculty member’s background, research, and recently published articles.
EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING FOR CREDIT

An internship or practicum provides an opportunity to explore career possibilities and to develop communication and organizational skills. Many employers expect college graduates to have practical, work-related experience. Learning about the world of work and making contacts in your chosen field are essential tools for landing your first job. Instructor permission is required for these courses.

ADOLESCENT DIVERSION PROJECT, PSY 371/372 (8 cr.)
The Adolescent Diversion Project is a two-semester commitment in which the student is trained and then mentors an adolescent involved in the juvenile justice system. This opportunity is offered every semester and the semesters have to be consecutive. Contact Sean Hankins, Director, at 517-355-9519 hankinssa@msu.edu, http://www.msu.edu/course/psy/371/ or LaTonya Demps, Assistant Director, lloydlat@msu.edu

PSYCHOLOGY HUMAN SERVICES INTERNSHIP, PSY 381/382 (9-15 cr.)
This course is a two-semester commitment. PSY 381 is in the spring and is a training and theory course. In PSY 382, students apply theory to practice. This internship is offered online in the summer. Internships are required to be in the human services field. This is a great opportunity to learn theories of human behavior, examine social problems, and “engage in strengths-based client centered service delivery”. Application materials are available on the undergraduate website under “Get Involved” http://psychology.msu.edu/Undergrads/GetInvolved.aspx. Contact Francoise Bigelow, bigelowf@msu.edu

BUSINESS PSYCHOLOGY INTERNSHIP, PSY 382 (6-12 cr.)
In this course, students complete an internship related to Industrial/Organizational Psychology. As a prerequisite for the internship, students are required to complete PSY 255 so they have background knowledge of the factors relevant to improving organizational performance. Additionally, students are required to attend orientation sessions in the spring semester prior to the internship which is completed in the summer. All academic assignments for the course are completed online. Application materials are available in the Psychology Undergraduate Advising Office and online at the Psychology Department website http://psychology.msu.edu/Undergrads/GetInvolved.aspx. Contact Andrea Lunsted, lunsteda@msu.edu

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCE INTERNSHIP, SSC 493 (3-12 cr.)
Internships are offered through the College of Social Science in various areas of interest, depending on your career goals. Call 517-355-6676, in 201 Berkey Hall, http://www.socialscience.msu.edu/current/internship.html

STUDY ABROAD
Study abroad is another way to look at the world differently. This can benefit your career, your degree, and in many cases, you personally. When students study abroad they choose to step outside of what they “know” and expose themselves to new thoughts, ideas and cultures. Psychology students are encouraged to go on programs where they can take courses to meet a variety of degree requirements. For more information on programs, search the study abroad database at http://studyabroad.msu.edu/.

College Restrictions on Experiential Learning
The total of independent study, practicum, internship, and field experience credits may not exceed 20 credits combined. If you have questions, contact a Psychology Advisor.
♀ A maximum of 12 credits of independent study may be applied toward the degree.
♀ A maximum of 12 credits in internship, field experience, and practicum courses combined may be applied toward the degree. PSY 371/372 and 381 do not count against this limit.

PSYCHOLOGY BA vs. PSYCHOLOGY BS

Students can choose to pursue a Bachelor of Arts (BA) or Bachelor of Science (BS) Degree in Psychology. When choosing a degree, students should always start with what they are most interested in. If you have always been good at science and math, and you like it, you will most likely complete the Bachelor of Science in Psychology. If you have always been a successful writer, like the humanities, and enjoy learning about people and cultures, you will probably want to pursue the Bachelor of Arts. It seems easy, but many students fall somewhere in the middle.

Many students ask which is better for jobs and graduate school. There is not one good answer for everyone. The answer depends on how well you would do in each of the areas. Some students think that the B.S. is the only way to graduate school, but if you can only get low grades in those courses, you may significantly hurt your chances for admission. If your future graduate program does not require or recommend those courses, you could have just lowered your GPA for no reason.

Most graduate programs want a diversity of courses. They also want students to show that they can do well in challenging courses. This can be done through either the B.A. or the B.S. Degree in Psychology. It is most important to do well in the most challenging courses that you can handle. It is also important to look ahead to see what courses are recommended by the graduate programs you are pursuing. If the programs you are looking into are more scientific in nature, you will probably want the courses in the B.S Degree.

The best way to determine which degree is best for you is by meeting with a Psychology advisor.

CHANGING BA OR BS STATUS

Juniors and Seniors:
First meet with a Psychology Advisor to clarify the requirements for the new major. Psychology students who would like to change their degree status from Bachelor of Arts (BA) to Bachelor of Science (BS) or from BS to BA, have earned 56 credits or more and have meet with an advisor, need to email Academic.Affairs@ssc.msu.edu or call 517-355-6676 to request this change. Provide your name, telephone number, and major; specify the change you wish to make.

Freshmen and Sophomores:
Students desiring to make a degree change who have earned less than 56 credits need to visit their local Undergraduate University Division (UUD) Office located in five Neighborhood Engagement Centers. For UUD locations, go to https://www.msu.edu/dep/uud/. Click on the “Location” link.

NOTE: Check STUINFO within two weeks to verify that the degree change has gone through as requested.
General Electives are any courses that do not meet any specific course requirement. This is your chance to explore and expand your knowledge in other areas of interest. Psychology students usually have 26-28 credits of General Electives. These courses will count toward the 120/123 minimum credits required for graduation. Elective courses taken at the 300+ level, will also satisfy the upper level requirement. Excess credits from University, College, or PSY requirements are considered General Electives, also. When completing electives, you can take a diversity of courses from all different disciplines. If you would rather have them more focused, you may choose to complete a specialization, minor, additional major, or second degree. Some of the more popular departments Psychology majors select electives from are:

- CEP Counseling, Educational Psychology and Special Education
- COM Communication
- EAD Educational Administration
- KIN Kinesiology
- IDES Interior Design
- TE Teacher Education
- ACC Accounting
- JRN Journalism
- PRR Parks, Recreation and Tourism Resources
- TC Telecommunication
- ADV Advertising

SPECIALIZATIONS

Specializations can be found on the MSU website at http://www.reg.msu.edu/academicprograms/Programs.asp?PType=SPCU. Specializations are usually between 15-20 credits. These courses can be from all different departments. Some popular specializations for PSY majors are Coaching, Women’s Studies, Peace and Justice, Cognitive Science, and Design. Completed specializations are listed on your transcript. There is a binder in the Undergraduate Psychology Advising Center that has requirements and handouts for many of the specializations. Specializations are being converted to minors over the next year. Please meet with the offering department as to how you need to sign up.

MINORS

MSU has several minors as an option for students to enhance their academic record. If you are interested, a list of current available minors can be found on the Registrar’s Office website http://www.reg.msu.edu/academicprograms/Programs.asp?PType=TE. Completed minors are listed on your final transcript. Some areas are: Dance, Health Promotion, Languages.

ADDITIONAL MAJOR

Another option available to psychology majors is completing an additional major in another discipline. An additional major is noted on your final transcript. Most disciplines offer an additional major, though the requirements for each can be very different. Most additional majors range between 30-60 credits. You should contact the academic advisor in the discipline you are interested in for more information and to sign up.

SECOND DEGREE

Second degrees are available for students wanting two diplomas. The University requires students pursuing a second degree to do a minimum of 30 credits beyond their first degree. Department and college requirements are usually required to be completed. A second degree can be added by meeting with an advisor in the area of interest.
