Adolescent Diversion Program– Recruiting Students

The MSU Adolescent Diversion Program is a two-semester, experiential -learning course. ADP offers students the opportunity to be advocates and mentors in the community with an adolescent involved in the juvenile justice system. Students will expand their professional skills in areas such as social emotional learning, strengths-based practice, goal setting, trauma informed care, and more. If you are looking for an opportunity that will allow you to work with youth, interact with human service professionals, build your resume, prepare you for graduate school or a post-bachelor’s career, this is the perfect opportunity for you. We are looking for student for the Spring/Summer and Summer/ Fall cohort. If you are interested, please contact Emily SF Zagurny at sherid65@msu.edu .

Adolescent Diversion Program Student Spotlight

The Adolescent Diversion Program staff would like to spotlight three exceptional students serving as undergraduate assistants for their program. These students represent the leader of our future, they demonstrate the character of service, social justice and autonomous prosperity. They are selflessness and passionate to support others academic and professional development. Emma Lock is a PSY /Pre-Health senior who shares that “ADP has become family and I am so thankful for all the people that I have met along the way”, read her full spotlight here. Devon Stefanko is a PSY Senior who shares that ADP has allowed her to “Learn and apply so many important life skills”, read her full spotlight here. Delaney Weedmark is also a PSY senior who shares “Everything I’ve done at MSU thus far has prepared me for the future by challenging me”, read her full spotlight here.

Congratulations to these MSU PSY seniors!
