

PSY 235H: Social Psychology - Honors
Course Syllabus – Fall 2019

Course Description

Social psychology is the scientific study of the nature and causes of human social behavior, emotion and cognition. This course provides an introduction to the principles and concepts of the discipline, and emphasizes how traits of individuals interact with the social environment to produce the rich complexity of human social life. Perhaps more than most courses, social psychology is concerned with “real life” content. As such we will discuss topics such as friendship and romance, sexuality, aggression and violence, prejudice and discrimination, cooperation and conflict, and morality and religion. Principles of economics and biology are provided as a theoretical backdrop in order to better frame the role of social psychology in the broader enterprise of understanding why we are the way we are.

8-Oct. 24-Oct.*
12-Nov. 26-Nov*

* Class will not meet on 8-Oct and 26-Nov, but your assignments are due nevertheless.

Exams and Assignments

The combined point total for all course content is 420 pts. split among the following ways:

Exams: There are three 100 pt. exams each composed of 45 multiple-choice (2 pts. each), and two short-answer items (5 pts. each). Exams total 300 pts. (~75% of course grade). Exams are administered in our usual meeting room on the dates posted below.

Class Participation: Participation is registered via iClicker 2 (20 pts. Total)

Homework Assignments: There are six (6) online homework submissions for 40 points total.

Writing Assignments: There are two writing assignments worth 30 points each totaling 60 pts., (12.5% of grade). Instructions for these assignments are on the Lessons tab in D2L. The first writing assignment is due Oct. 27, and the second is due Dec. 1.

Make-ups for exams or participation are not typically allowed, but contact instructor if you have a special circumstance involving official university business, a religious observance or a documented emergency.

The point breakdown for assignments, participation and exams is as follows

Type	Pts. Each	#	Pts. Total
Homework	4-12	6	40
Clicker	2	20	20
Writing Assgn	25	2	60
Exams	100	3	300
Total			420

NOTE: Two absences are allowed before clicker participation points are deducted. D2L will drop the lowest two scores in this category.

Grading

The grading scale is as follows:

Percent	Pt. Min.	Grade
90%	378	4.0
85%	357	3.5
80%	336	3.0
75%	315	2.5
70%	294	2.0

NOTE: Pt. Min. = Minimum points needed for grade.

Extra Credit

Students may receive an extra credit for participation in experiments through MSU's Human Participation in Research (HPR) system. Directions for participation are posted on our course domain on D2L. Students may volunteer in research studies for up to 10 extra credit points maximum (5 hrs. participation time = 10 HPR credits).

Alternatives to research participation for extra credit may be earned through other means, such as writing a research paper, but you must contact me about completing an alternative assignment at least three weeks before the day of the last exam.

Course Announcements/Updates

Announcements are made via email sent through MSU's online course content system, D2L. Make sure D2L has your up-to-date contact information.

Questions and Concerns

Questions and concerns should be addressed to the teaching staff (if applicable) at psy235h@cdnresearch.net or during office hours. TAs/UAs may answer questions about grading, but final decisions are the responsibility solely of the instructor.

Academic Freedom

Respectful dialogue and professional conduct, are important, and we are committed to sustaining individual rights for freedom of speech in academic settings. Students are encouraged to make full use of this right, and we are committed to engaging a wide range of comments, questions and viewpoints in the classroom or during office hours.

Limits to Confidentiality. Materials submitted for this class are generally considered confidential pursuant to the University's student record policies. However, students should be aware that University employees, including the TA and I, must report the following information to other University offices (including the Department of Police and Public Safety) if you share it with us:

- Suspected child abuse/neglect, even if this maltreatment happened when you were a child,
- Allegations of sexual assault or sexual harassment when they involve MSU students, faculty, or staff, and
- Credible threats of harm to oneself or to others.

These reports may trigger contact from a campus official who will want to talk with you about the incident that you have shared. In almost all cases, it will be your decision whether you wish to speak with that individual. If you would like to talk about these events in a more confidential setting you are encouraged to make an appointment with the MSU Counseling Center.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Michigan State University is committed to providing equal opportunity for participation in all programs, services and activities. Requests for accommodations by persons with disabilities may be made by contacting the Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities at 517-884-RCPD or on the web at rcpd.msu.edu Once your eligibility for an accommodation has been determined, you will be issued a Verified Individual Services Accommodation ("VISA") form. Please present this form to me at the start of the term and/or two weeks prior to the accommodation date (test, project, etc.). Requests received after this date may not be honored.

If you require testing accommodations (additional time, less disruptive room, etc.) you must contact me and present your VISA at least two weeks before the exam date to schedule an alternative exam. Typically, I will schedule for you to take the exam during a special exam sessions offered by the Psychology Department. Those exams occur in small group settings and are offered every Tuesday at 5:00pm or Friday at 9:00am in Giltner 346. If you are unable to make either of those times, or that option does not meet your VISA accommodations, you may be able to schedule to take your exam at the RCPD office. In either case, the exam must be scheduled well in advance, so you need to adhere to the two-week prior notification requirement.

Academic Honesty and Integrity: The Spartan Code of Honor states, "As a Spartan, I will strive to uphold values of the highest ethical standard. I will practice honesty in my work, foster honesty in my peers, and take pride in knowing that honor is worth more than grades. I will carry these values beyond my time as a student at Michigan State University, continuing the endeavor to build personal integrity in all that I do." In addition, Article 2.III.B.2 of the Student Rights and Responsibilities (SRR) states that "The student shares with the faculty the responsibility for maintaining the integrity of scholarship, grades, and professional standards." The department of psychology adheres to the policies on academic honesty as specified in General Student Regulations 1.0, Protection of Scholarship and Grades; the all-University Policy on Integrity of Scholarship and Grades; and Ordinance 17.00, Examinations. (See Spartan Life: Student Handbook and Resource Guide and/or the MSU Web site: www.msu.edu)

Therefore, unless authorized by your instructor, you are expected to complete all course assignments, including homework, lab work, quizzes, tests and exams, without assistance from any source. You are expected to develop original work for this course; therefore, you may not submit course work you completed for another course to satisfy the requirements for this course. Also, you are not authorized to use the www.allmsu.com website to complete any course work in this course. Students who violate MSU academic integrity rules may receive a penalty grade, including a failing grade on the assignment or in the course. Contact your instructor if you are unsure about the appropriateness of your course work.

Every student is held responsible for knowing the academic integrity policy at MSU. Information regarding this policy is available at: <https://www.msu.edu/unit/ombud/dishonestystud.html>

Disruptive Behavior. Article 2.III.B.4 of the Student Rights and Responsibilities (SRR) for students at Michigan State University states: "The student's behavior in the classroom shall be conducive to the teaching and learning process for all concerned." Article 2.III.B.10 of the SRR states that "The student and the faculty share the responsibility for maintaining professional relationships based on mutual trust and civility." General Student Regulation 5.02 states: "No student shall . . . interfere with the functions and services of the University (for example, but not limited to, classes . . .) such that the function or service is obstructed or disrupted. Students whose conduct adversely affects the learning environment in this classroom may be subject to disciplinary action.

Students in this course should feel free to voice questions and comments relevant to the course material during lectures, via email or during office hours. Unnecessary chatter during lectures or exams is a distraction and should be avoided. Students should use lecture breaks for conversation.
