Introduction to the Theory, Practice and Research Concerning Child Maltreatment

Psychology 493-Section 007
316 Ernst Bessey Hall
Fall, 2018

Professor Bogat:
107E Psychology Building

Class Time: Tuesday and Thursday 2:40 - 4:00 pm

Office Hours: 12-1 Wednesdays and by appointment (just email me and we can set up a face-to-face meeting or a videochat)

Email: bogat@msu.edu (please put PSY 493 in subject line when you email)

I. Required Textbook

II. Purpose

This course focuses on child maltreatment and provides a broad introduction to its history, definitions, the legal framework, interventions, and other pertinent issues (e.g., child advocacy). Theory, research, and practice regarding child maltreatment, including controversies in the field, empirically-validated treatments, and future directions will be covered.
III. Grading

Grades will be based on 3 exams (not cumulative) as well as a class paper, which is an in-depth literature review on a specific topic relevant to the course. Information about each of these is described below.

Examinations
There will be three examinations that each consist of 40 multiple choice questions and 4 short answer questions. Each multiple choice question is worth 2 points; each short answer question is worth 5 points (for a total of 100 points). Exam questions include material covered in class, in the textbook, and in the assigned articles. The exams are NOT cumulative.

Class Paper
Every student is required to write a paper. The paper is a summary of research and literature about a topic relevant to child maltreatment. The paper is due on December 12, 2018 at 5pm. There are no exceptions. You have several deadlines related to the paper prior to December 12. Points will be deducted if you miss the two deadlines prior to the final submission. The topic and 10 references must be approved by the professor. The professor will make comments in the course’s D2L assignment folder to let you know whether you are approved or whether you must revise. There is no “messaging” attached to the assignment folder, so please check your assignment folder frequently after submitting.

September 24 at 5pm—latest date by which you choose the topic of your paper and submit it to the D2L assignment folder labeled “paper topic” for approval. You must provide a tentative title for the paper and a brief description of what you will write about. I must approve the topic. Sometimes I need to communicate with the student because the topic is too narrow, too broad, or is not related to the course material. If you did not get approval by your first submission of September 24, you must have my approval by October 1. We will correspond in the assignment folder until you have approval.

One way to choose a topic is to look at the chapter headings in the book or the index in the back of the book. Another way is to read a bit about child maltreatment on the internet to find what interests you the most.

October 29 at 5pm—latest date by which you send me the 10 references (and their abstracts) that you will use when writing your paper. Please # each one of these, put them in a file, and then add to the Assignment Folder labeled “10 References” on the D2L course site. I must approve the references. Sometimes you do not get approval on some of the references for various reasons. If that is the case, I will write to you in the comments section of the D2L assignment folder and request new references. We will correspond in the assignment folder until you have approval. If you did not get approval by your first submission of October 29, you must have final approval by November 5.

References must come from Proquest or another scholarly index (e.g., Medline; Web of Science). References need to be published between the years 2000 and 2017. You cannot use web pages or popular journals as references. You cannot use dissertations. Make sure that your references cover enough information about your topic that you can write a paper that is 10 pages in length. I will explain, in class, how to conduct a literature review.

November 21 at 5pm—latest date by which you may send me a draft of your paper for feedback. You do not have to submit a draft, but if you wish to receive feedback before you complete your final paper, it must be submitted by this date. Put the file of the draft of your paper in the Assignment Folder labeled “Paper Draft” on the D2L course website.

December 12 at 5pm—final papers must be submitted on this date by 5pm. Papers received after this date will be penalized ½ of a grade for each day late. Your paper must be submitted to the Assignment Folder labeled “Final Paper” on the D2L class website. This is a private area where the paper will be graded. Only you can see your grade.

Please note: I take plagiarism very seriously. There will be a class lecture on plagiarism and constant reminders during the class not to plagiarize. In order to aid your understanding of plagiarism and to give you the chance to fix any problems before turning in your final paper, I use Turnitin. You have a chance to submit your final paper to the Final Paper assignment folder to see your Turnitin score and any problems that the software program identifies. You are encouraged to fix these problems before submitting your final paper to the “final paper” assignment folder. You can submit as many versions of your paper as you need to in this assignment folder until you have eliminated all plagiarism.

Please see the course D2L site for more information about how to read and understand the information that Turnitin provides.

Use of Turnitin:

“Consistent with MSU's efforts to enhance student learning, foster honesty, and maintain integrity in our academic processes, I have chosen to use a tool called Turnitin to compare your papers with multiple sources. The tool will compare each paper you submit to an extensive database of prior publications and papers, providing links to possible matches and a 'similarity score.' The tool does not determine whether plagiarism has occurred or not. Instead, I will make a complete assessment and judge the originality of your work. All submissions to this course may be checked using this tool.

You should submit papers to Turnitin Assignment folders without identifying information included in the paper (e.g., name or student number), the [Desire 2 Learn] system will automatically show this information to me when I view the submission, but the information will not be retained by Turnitin. If you forget and submit your paper with your identifying information on it, it will be retained in the Turnitin repository.

"Your submissions will be retained in the Global Turnitin repository."

In choosing to use Turnitin in our class, I have agreed to follow five guidelines. They are:

- I will use Turnitin as part of a balanced approach to encourage academic integrity and foster student success.
- I will openly disclose use of Turnitin in this course on the syllabus and at the time assignments are announced.
- For a given assignment, I will use Turnitin for all papers.
- I will make the final determination of originality and integrity.
- To ensure privacy, I will ask students to remove identification (e.g., names and student numbers) from submissions.

If you have any questions about the use of Turnitin in this course, please bring them to my attention.”

Extra Credit

You can obtain extra credit in this class, up to and including 10 additional points. You can obtain this in one of two ways: (1) You can write a summary of one article assigned for that class period or (2) you can answer one of the thought questions at the end of the chapter assigned for that class period. You can receive a maximum of 1 extra credit point for each class that has an assigned article or chapter. You must turn in your materials at the beginning of each class period—NO LATE SUBMISSIONS. I will take handwritten copies or files sent to me via email before class begins. I will record your participation and evaluate the quality of your submissions. This is true extra credit. It will be an “add on” to your cumulative total of exam and class paper points.

IV. Issues of Academic Integrity and Policy on Cheating

Students taking this course are expected to adhere to the highest ethical conduct. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will automatically receive a failing grade (0.0) for the assignment. Every student is held responsible for knowing the academic integrity policy at MSU. Links to the policy can be found at https://www.msu.edu/~ombud/academic-integrity/index.html.

Below are some definitions of plagiarism.

“a piece of writing that has been copied from someone else and is presented as being your own work” (Webster’s Dictionary Online)

“Plagiarism is copying another person’s text or ideas and passing the copied material as your own work. ...You must both delineate (i.e., separate and identify) the copied text from your text and give credit to (i.e., cite the source) the source of the copied text to avoid accusations of plagiarism. Plagiarism is considered fraud and has potentially harsh consequences including loss of job, loss of reputation, and the assignation of reduced or failing grade in a course.” (https://ombud.msu.edu/academic-integrity/plagiarism-policy.html)

“the appropriation of another person’s ideas, processes, results, or words without giving appropriate credit” (White House Office of Sciences and Technology Policy on Misconduct on Research

Information about cheating from the student’s point of view can be found by reading the Student Academic Integrity FAQs on our Office of the Ombudsperson page

https://www.msu.edu/~ombud/academic-integrity/student-faq.html

There are student-based websites that seem to foster and promote academic dishonesty. You are not authorized to use the “all MSU” Web site or any other student-based website to complete any course work. You are not allowed to purchase or use papers written by someone else for your assignments in this course.

Ignorance or misunderstanding of the honesty policy will not serve as an excuse for academic dishonesty. Scholastic dishonesty will be prosecuted to the fullest extent in this class. That means you will get a 0.0 for the assignment, and a letter will be sent to the dean of your college and to the dean of the College of Social Sciences about the incident. A request for your dean to call for a disciplinary hearing to impose sanctions beyond failing the course could occur in some cases of academic dishonesty.

Penalty Grade Policy at MSU (as of 2009)

Revised University Policy - Integrity of Scholarship and Grades: “When an instructor gives an undergraduate or graduate student a penalty grade for academic misconduct, the instructor must provide a written description of the details of the academic misconduct to the student and to the student’s academic dean. The student’s academic dean will add the written description to the student’s academic record, where it will remain, unless the student successfully grieves the allegation.”

V. Accommodations for Disabilities

Michigan State University is committed to providing equal opportunity for participation in all programs, services and activities. Requests for accommodations by persons with disabilities may be made by contacting the Resource Center for Persons with Disabilities at 517-884-RCPD or on the web at rcpd.msu.edu. Once your eligibility for an accommodation has been determined, you will be issued a Verified Individual Services Accommodation (“VISA”) form. Please present this form to me at the start of the term and/or two weeks prior to the accommodation date (test, project, etc.). Requests received after this date may not be honored.
If you require testing accommodations (additional time, less disruptive room, etc.) you must contact me and present your VISA at least two weeks before the exam date to schedule an alternative exam. Typically, I will schedule for you to take the exam during a special exam sessions offered by the Psychology Department. If you are unable to make those times, or that option does not meet your VISA accommodations, you may be able to schedule to take your exam at the RCPD office. In either case, the exam must be scheduled well in advance, so you need to adhere to the two week prior notification requirement.
